

Bar Harbor, Me.
September 5, 1952

Dear Luca:

I received your letter only just yesterday, as it was forwarded here from Madison. We are returning in a few days.

Mrs. Lederberg and I have every confidence in your judgment in managing the JGM paper through its temporary difficulties. I hardly agree that a drastic re-organization is necessary, but can understand that some translation into English English may be requested. For my part, I would have preferred leaving the style alone, but am willing to accede to editorial discretion. I am sure that you will see that Hayes' revision, as I am sure also he intends himself) will be confined to the presentation of the paper, and not to interpretations, at least not without some opportunity for considered discussion. Your plan for managing the paper, proof, etc. is perfectly agreeable.

We have been having something of a vacation, having motored through Canada from Sault Ste. Marie (Lake Huron) through Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, the Gaspesie and Halifax, to arrive here for some rest and more stationary enjoyment before starting our return trip. We should be back by the 15th-- i.e., possibly by the time you receive this letter.

Sincerely.

Joshua Lederberg